COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGERS OFFICE

1967 excise tax books were received last week from the office of the Secretary of State. There are a number of people who like to pay their excise tax early. The receipts are now available for anyone who wants to pay his excise tax for next year. Excise tax payments for the first eight months of 1966 are nearly $1000 ahead of payments for the same period in 1965. The increase can be attributed to more vehicles on the road, more late model cars on the road, and the increased cost of new cars.

Just a word here on where the excise tax money goes. During the year the money is in the operating fund of the town. On December 31 of each year, all the money collected for excise taxes is transferred to the surplus account. At the next annual town meeting a certain amount of money is taken from surplus rather than raise it by taxes. Part of that surplus money comes from the excise taxes.

The new two year automobile operator's licenses have caused a little confusion. For one thing, the application comes from the State and it should be received by the applicant about four weeks before his birthday. If a person doesn't get an application at least two weeks before his birthday, he should write the Secretary of State requesting an application. If a person has a change of address he should notify the Secretary of State of same. This is especially true if there was no forwarding address left at the old home. If S. Post Office.

Some might think that I left out the supply of the Mark and the amount of the Town Office. I don't want to leave that out. All applications for a license must be received from the Secretary of State. The main reason that two officers can't get the applications to State control. The State has more control over persons who have lost their licenses when all applications are turned by the State. The system is new and it might take awhile to get accustomed to it. I believe more people will accept it after it has been in operation for a while. At least there are a lot fewer persons to be constantly checking without a license than under the old system. Michael Houlahan.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS MEET ACCEPT WELL DRILLING BID

The Board of Directors of Maine School Administrative District No. 44 held their regular meeting at Andover High School on Monday evening, Sept. 12.

The Directors received bids for the drilling of a well at the site of the area high school. The low bid of $4,918 of Stanley E. Hallack of Gorham, Maine, was accepted. The only other bidder for the project was R. E. Chapman, with a bid of $5,161.

The architect expects final plans for the proposed building will be available by Oct. 3. Lester Bickford of Greenwood estimated that bids may be opened during the first week of November.

The composition of the soil at the high school site is such that additional test borings will have to be made so as to make sure an adequate foundation is provided for the building.

At the request of Andover residents and after discussion the Directors authorized that the District would provide transportation for Andover students enrolled at Gould Academy. The rate allowable will be $7.00 per pupil a week.

The Board of Directors accepted, with regret, the resignation of Stephen Hall of Andover. Mr. Hall is moving to Massachusetts.

The next S.A.D. 44 Directors meeting will be held at the Greenwood High School in Bethuel at 7:30 p.m. on October 3.

MAINE FALL-OUT SURVEY ATTRACTING ATTENTION

The Master of the National Grange, Harold D. Newsum, in a letter to Arthur M. Perkins, Master of the Maine State Grange, asked that public support be given to the program which is important to national security.

The National VFW has requested that support be given to the Maine Program by James C. Gurney, Jr., Commander, Department of Maine.

Solomon Horstbaum, National Chairman of BNAI B'RITH in a letter to Director Stanley noted that BNAI B'RITH shall do everything within its power to cooperate with Civil Defense.

Stanley said "These letters of support and those from the members of our congregational delegation should keep Maine ahead in the fall program and encourage getting the remaining 35% of Maine population to fill out and return the questionnaire."

The Department Adjutant General J. Brown of the Maine AMVETS expressed their wholehearted support to the National Fallout Shelter Survey.

Stanley said that 40% of the Maine Home Fallout Protection Survey questionnaires have been returned to the Bureau of Census. 10,000 Maine people have taken advantage of this program to improve their shelter capabilities.

The Director requested that copies of Maine who has not received a questionnaire send their name and address to State Civil Defense Agency and a questionnaire will be sent by return mail.

On the 15th of September the Bureau of Census will mail questionnaires to the third and final questionnaire to respondents.

Stanley said "The Bureau of Census will provide State CD with a statistical summary by county and will indicate the areas where returns are high. The information may also indicate the areas where returns are low."

The Director stated that for the community fallout planning program to be successful we must have nearly 100 per cent returns on the Home Fallout Protection Survey.

20 SECONDS WITH THE NAZARENE

An old fable suggests this. A certain dog, in the story goes, boasted of his prowess as a runner. One day he raced after a rabbit, but was unable to catch it. When the other dogs, mindful of his previous boasting, ridiculed him, he replied, "You must remember that the rabbit was running for his life while I was running only for my dinner."

If a man is in life's race merely for his dinner, he does not put the same interest and energy into his running that he does if he is impelled by a deeper incentive. Jesus summarized this matter tersely when He said, "Man does not live by bread alone." —Armer D. Fiske

COMMUNITY DRAINAGE PROJECT COMPLETED AT CANTON POINT

A mile long community drainage project has recently been completed at Canton Point. The project involved the cooperation of three landowner groups and several state and federal agencies.

The landowner groups are the Monmouth Canning Company, J. Carleton Conant & Son, and Erlon Trip and Richard McCollister.

The Oxford County Soil and Water Conservation District acted as vendor and administered the contracts involved.

The State Highway Commission cooperated by replacing the old culvert across route 149 and lowering the culvert to meet the design specifications of the Soil Conservation Service.

The County Committee of the ASCS assisted by providing some cost-sharing funds for the project. P. E. Dunn of Poland was the lowest bidder and completed all construction work.

The excavation averaged about one yard per running foot. Some 5129 cubic yards of earth were moved. The ditch averaged 11 feet wide at top and five feet wide on the bottom. The minimum depth was two feet. Fifty acres of interests engaged land will be immediately affected.

Some 499 acres will eventually be affected through surface drains and land grading now that a main outlet has been provided.

Construction supervision was under the direction of George P. Holden, Technician of the Soil Conservation Service.
